

Welcome to the Internal Medicine Training Program at Maimonides Medical Center. Our program has been in existence for over 70 years, training hundreds of specialists in Internal Medicine. You will have three years of comprehensive training in general internal medicine including experiences in acute and ambulatory medicine.

We are fortunate to be located in a melting pot of multiple and diverse cultures from all over the world and therefore you will not only be exposed to traditional medical cases but also exotic diseases that would be rarely seen in most programs. Our hospital is not only the birth place of Chief Justice Ruth Bader Ginsberg, the second female justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, but also the site of the first heart transplant in the United States.

Thank you for your interest in our program that is rich in tradition and clinical excellence.

Tony Kalloo

Anthony N. Kalloo, MD
Chair of Medicine at Maimonides Medical Center
Professor Emeritus of Medicine at Johns Hopkins University